Staff Spotlight:
If you would like to recognize someone for a job well done please be sure to send submissions to me throughout the week and I'll consider them for the spotlight.

Staff Spotlight

This week's staff spotlight goes out to a teacher that pursued an idea/dream they had for their classroom and made it happen. The world is full of those that sit around and talk about something they are passionate about. Mr. Shawn Hinds does not fall into that group. He did his research and pursued his dream of having a one to one classroom for his students. Last week, that dream came true as he was awarded a classroom set of Chrome books to pilot a paperless classroom for the district! He will also be presenting about his experience with a paperless classroom in the spring at a technology conference. When you see Mr. Hinds in the hallways this week please congratulate him for this accomplishment and for being this weeks staff spotlight!
